Contents

List of Exhibits vii
Preface ix
Acknowledgments xi

CHAPTER 1
Introduction 1
Seminars As Marketing Activities 1
Sales Messages Delivered by Seminars 2
Types of Seminars 3
Scope of This Monograph 4

CHAPTER 2
Conceptual Planning 5
The Target Audience 5
Subject Matter 6
Seminar Guests 10
Co-Sponsors 11
Number of Seminars 12
Private Seminars 13
Fee Versus Free 14
Luncheons, Receptions, and Refreshments 15
Location 16
Editorial Considerations 17
Ethical Considerations 18
Special Considerations for Solos and Small Firms 19
Developing Checklists 21

CHAPTER 3
Producing the Seminar 23
Getting Organized 23
Selecting Speakers 25
Program Title and Content 27
Time and Date 27
Location 29
Program Facilities 29
Program Timetable 31
Timing Script 32
Program Brochure 34
The Invitation List 36
Advertising 37
Telephone Solicitations 37
Integrating the Seminar with Other Marketing Activities 39
Invitations to the Media 39
Handling Registrations 41
Style of the Program 41
Handout Materials 43
The Reception 45
Questionnaires 46
Certificates of Attendance 46
Postseminar Activities 47
Automation 47

CHAPTER 4

Cost/Benefit Considerations 49

Costs 49
Benefits 51
Conclusion 53

APPENDIXES

A: Client Survey 55

B: Sample Timing Script 58

C: Sample Evaluation Form 61

D: Certificate of Attendance 63

Client Seminars
E: Excerpt from ABA Model Rules of Professional Conduct  64

F: Sample Seminar Brochures  67
   Baker & McKenzie  68
   Baldwin & Haspel  70
   Cushman, Darby & Cushman  72
   Ellefson, Pulver & Staines  74
   Gordon, Arata, McCollam & Duplantis  76
   King & Ballow  78
   Kullman, Inman, Bee, Downing & Banta  80
   McGlinchey, Stafford, Cellini & Lang  82
   Paul, Hastings, Janofsky & Walker  84
   Phelps, Dunbar, Marks, Claverie & Sims  86

Bibliography  89
About the Author  93
List of Exhibits