Ideas for next meeting

Some kind of web hosted meeting/teleconference. Like Webx (?) where we can see someone's computer screen that can access the sample bench book so we can look at formatting. There have been issues with people accessing the current format with OneNote. I (Andrea) even have the program on my computer and it won't work for me.

Technical direction – how are we using links? What does the court use for research so we can use that also when we are linking? What format do the links need to be in for whoever puts the final book together?
