The following activities are planned for Conflict Resolution Month 2016 in Summit County, CO. For further information, please contact the names in bold.

The County Commissioners will sign a Conflict Resolution Proclamation on September 27 at the Old Courthouse in Breckenridge at 1:30.

“See You in Court” is a Legal Resource Day that covers courtroom procedures and mediation options. Scheduled for September 30, 9:30-3pm at the Summit County Justice Center, 501 North Park Ave., Breckenridge. Contact Mary Perry 970-547-2635.

There will be a book presentation and author signing of Forgiving Others, Forgiving Ourselves, at the Next Page Bookstore in Frisco (409 Main St.) on Saturday October 8, 2-4pm. Conflict Resolution Month in Colorado chose this book for its 2016 selection. Contact lisa@nextpagebooks.com.

* A panel discussion focusing on mental health needs and resources in Summit County will be held on Sunday October 23 from 2—4 p.m. in the Buffalo Mountain Room in the County Commons, Frisco. Dr. Carol Gerard will moderate the panel that will include local mental health and law enforcement professionals. A practical skills program, Mental Health First Aid, will be discussed. A hopeful picture of the state of mental health care in Summit County along with the significant gaps in care will be presented. The Interfaith Alliance will partner with the Conflict Resolution Coalition for this event. Carol Gerard is the event chair carol.gerard60@gmail.com

* Myra Isenhardt will speak about her new book, Forgiving Others, Forgiving Ourselves to Women of the Summit on October 20 11:45 to 1, in the Mt Royal room at the County

Commons in Frisco. RSVP and a $10 charge for lunch. Myra and Ann Galluzzo will lead a book discussion that afternoon 5:00 pm, at the south Branch Library, 103 S. Harris St., Breckenridge in the Discovery Room. The public is welcome. For both events, contact Monica Owens monica.owens@SummitCountyCO.gov

* A Domestic Relations Rural Resource Day offered by the 5th District Family Court, will be held on October 25. This event is designed for families involved in domestic relations cases. This is offered at no cost and will be offered in Summit and Eagle counties. Contact Laurie Mactavish, Family Court Facilitator for the 5th Judicial District for locations. More info Laurie.Mactavish@judicial.state.co.us

* For the month of November, the "Talking It Out" panels will be delivered to the Justice Center in Breckenridge and the Senior Center in Frisco. "Talking It Out: Getting To Agreement" is a unique photo and story exhibit that features Coloradans working together to solve problems. The exhibit illustrates seven stories of people and communities that have made a choice to solve their problems constructively. To find out more about the panels: <http://www.zinnmediation.com/exhibit.html>.

For questions about the panels at the Senior Center, please contact County Commissioner Karn Stiegemeier Karn.Stiegelmeier@SummitCountyCO.gov and about the location of the panels at the Justice Center, Tom Marmins is the contact: tlmarmins@msn.com.
