ACTION ITEM:

5. Title Standard 8.4 Fractional Mineral InterestsCatherine Hance, Geoff Anderson

Ms. Catherine Hance and Mr. Geoff Anderson introduced Title Standard 8.4 Fractional Mineral Interests. It was explained by Mr. Anderson that the purpose of the proposed title standard was to address provisions in deeds related to partial mineral interests and reservations of interests and ways Colorado courts interpret these types of deeds. The problem is with the records having a history of documents that include a reservation of mineral rights and subsequent conveyance with a reference but without addressing or referencing prior reservations of mineral rights. The proposed Title Standard tries to address the issue by being specific and clear with intent and to avoid future problems. The previously provided Note addresses case where this has been a problem. Problem C in the Note comes from case law where there was a reservation but the individual ended up with no interest. There is also confusion on reliance of chain of title, especially as to intentions of the parties per Mr. Anderson. The case law shows inconsistency in how courts resolve such disputes. Ms. Brimah moved to approve proposed Title Standard 8.4 Fraction Mineral Interests as drafted. The motion was seconded. The motion passed. Title Standard 8.4 Fractional Mineral Interests was unanimously approved.

6. Legislative.....Robin Nolan/Andy White/Jim Meseck

a. LPO Report.....Robin Nolan

Legislative Policy Officer Ms. Robin Nolan reported that preparations are underway for the upcoming legislative session starting on January 12, 2022. The Fairways at Buffalo Run proposed legislation is on track. The Removal of Race-Based Covenant Taskforce is meeting. The CCIOA taskforce will be meeting but no specific legislation has been identified at this time. Ms. Nolan will be distributing a memo on how proposed legislation is to be reviewed and evaluated.

b. Legislative Liaison Report.....Andy White

<https://legisource.net/2021/11/04/the-2022-legislative-session-is-just-over-two-months-away/>

Mr. Andy White reported that the next few months will be busy as he prepares for the upcoming legislative session. The legislative session is set to open on January 12, 2022. Mr. White expected there will be many bills that are introduced that will impact Colorado real estate law. LPC has one more meeting before the legislative sessions. All CBA members are welcomed to attend. Yesterday, the Colorado Supreme Court ratified the proposed congressional and legislature district maps. It is unknown what to expect in the upcoming legislative session and how the redrawing of the map will impact legislation going forward although Mr. White did offer his views on the topic.

c. Amending CRS § 18-9-313 Geoff Anderson, Greg Notarianni

Mr. Anderson reported that the redaction of real estate records is addressed in Colorado criminal statutes. The Colorado Clerks Association proposes expanding the categories of people eligible for removing personal identifying information in public records. LTAC wants to seek clarity on who these requests are submitted to and to define what is meant by “internet”, among other items. Who, what is the process, how long is information redacted, what happens if information is redacted, and how information can be unredacted are all questions that LTAC wishes to explore and obtain clarification. The primary concern and goal is to maintain the integrity of real estate records and recorded information. LTAC is attending the Clerk’s conference in January 2022 to participate in a panel discussion. LTAC will have a Zoom call with the bill sponsors on November 18, 2021. Ms. Nolan suggested utilizing contacts with clerks once more background information is obtained to address concerns. Mr. White pointed out past similar efforts from years ago related to domestic violence proposed amendments. Mr. White stated that it would be useful to have the Council get involved and review proposed legislation. Ms. Nolan initiated efforts to organize a taskforce, including Mr. Nagy, and Mr. Anderson. Ms. Pasquini suggested adding somebody from the race-based covenants taskforce. Mr. Toft agreed to bring up this issue with the race-based covenants taskforce. Ms. Pasquini suggested providing a speaker to the Clerk and Records

Conference on the topic of the importance of preserving and protecting the integrity of real estate records. The county clerk's conference is in January, 2022.

d. Executive Orders..... Andy Toft

Mr. Toft provided an update that no new executive orders have been issued that pertains directly to the legal profession but that could change in light of the developing spike in COVID-19 cases and strain on medical resources, including available hospital beds. Colorado courts are going back to virtual means but there is no uniformity as matters are still being set for in-person appearances.

7. In the News

a. New Judicial Protocols for Evictions..... Andy Toft

Mr. Toft reported that certain state legislators were still unsatisfied by the new judicial protocols for evictions. Last Friday there was a meeting regarding the Colorado Supreme Court rules changes and forms. Mr. Toft shared a recent article on this topic. The displeasure seems to relate to the view that there were still insufficient procedural and due process safeguards to protect tenants and their rights and as to whether there was compliance with recent legislative changes. Per Mr. Toft, the Supreme Court Rules Committee agreed to review again the rules and new forms with due haste, but there is no deadline for the review. A hearing may be held for any changes that come out of the review. Comments are to be sent to the Supreme Court Rules Committee. Ms. Angie Schmitz talked about the confusion surrounding the forms and criticism of the actual words placed in the summons from the recently passed statute. Ms. Schmitz agreed to coordinate with the LPO and, if warranted, to discuss with Mr. Andy White. If further action is warranted, a taskforce can be formed for the purpose of gathering and compiling proposed comments and submit for a vote of the Section Council.
