New District Court judgeship created in the 19th Judicial District Commission sets date to select nominees

The Nineteenth Judicial District Nominating Commission will meet at the Weld County Courthouse on Oct. 21, 2019, to interview and select nominees for appointment by the governor to the office of district judge for the Nineteenth Judicial District (Weld County). The new district court judgeship was created pursuant to Senate Bill 19-043 and is effective Jan. 1, 2020.

To be eligible, the applicant must be a qualified elector of the Nineteenth Judicial District at the time of investiture and must have been admitted to the practice of law in Colorado for five years. The current annual salary for this position is $173,248. The initial term of office of a district judge is a provisional term of two years; thereafter, the incumbent district judge, if retained by the voters, has a term of six years.

Application forms are available from the office of the ex officio chair of the nominating commission, Justice Richard L. Gabriel, 2 E. 14th Ave., Denver, CO 80203, and the office of the court executive, Marci Hoffman, 901 9th Ave., Greeley, CO 80631. Applications are also available on the court's home page at <http://www.courts.state.co.us/Careers/Judge.cfm>

The completed application must be e-mailed to the address listed in the instructions below no later than 4 p.m. Oct. 1, 2019. Late applications will not be considered. Any person wishing to suggest a candidate to fill the vacancy may do so by letter to be submitted to any member of the nominating commission, with a copy to the ex officio chair, no later than 4 p.m. Sept. 24, 2019.

The members of the nominating commission for the Nineteenth Judicial District are: Thomas Fasano of Windsor; William Crosier, Virginia Rosales, Elisa Kunkel, and Kathryn Heffron of Greeley; Matthew Crowther of Erie; and Joyce Smock of Grover.
