CONTENTS

Foreword ix

Preface: Teaching Supervisory Skills Is Essential in the Modern Law Firm 1

SECTION ONE
Developing Supervisory Skills in the Course of Client Service 21

Chapter One
Understanding the Developmental Stages of Expertise 23

Chapter Two
Delegating Assignments Effectively and Efficiently 31

Why Delegating Is Important and Difficult 31
Deconstructing Delegation 33

Chapter Three
Giving Feedback in a Learning Organization 47

The Practical Limitations of Mentoring and Performance Evaluations 47
What Form Might That Feedback Take? 50
Principles of Efficient Performance Feedback 51

The Four Elements of a NITA Critique 60
Implementing the Principles of the NITA Critique 72
Teaching the Method to Junior Supervisors 74
Special Issues Relating to Feedback on Written Work 78
Other Techniques for Teaching Editing 86

Chapter Four
Teaching Strategy While Managing Client Work 89

Legal Theory 95
Factual Theory 99
Brainstorming 109
Theme 115
Conclusion 119

SECTION TWO
Beyond Supervisory Skills:
Developing Law-Firm Mentors and Leaders 123

Chapter Five
Modeling: Teaching by Example 127

Chapter Six
Mentoring 131

Formal Mentoring 134
Informal Mentoring 137
Reverse Mentoring 139
Current Trends in Law-Firm Mentoring 140

Chapter Seven
Leading from Behind 145

Conclusion 149

Notes 153

About the Author 163